FEATURED TRAINING PARTNERS

General Assembly

General Assembly (GA) has trained over 100,000 adults in the industry's most in-demand tech skills, including data analytics, software engineering, design, and AI. We operate in close partnership with universities, government agencies, employers, and other key partners to strengthen local workforce offerings and upskill their own staff.

Our initiative, Project Forge, aims specifically to serve veterans and their families in accessing no-cost training and employer connections for the civilian workforce. This project connects veterans and military spouses to technical training that leads directly to an apprenticeship-type work period directly with an employer. Launched in early 2025, this initiative is gearing up to launch its first cohorts - learn more here.

The Rosie Project

The Rosie Project empowers military spouses with cybersecurity and information technology career training and certification testing at no cost, while offering wraparound support like childcare, mentorship, and job preparation. Join a growing national movement at www.rosieproject.org.

Creating Coding Careers

Creating Coding Careers equips transitioning service members, veterans, and military families to launch high-impact technology careers without pausing their lives. Guided by our Humanity Practice, we prioritize people over profit and collaboration over competition, embedding purpose and integrity into everything we do.

Our journey begins with a no-cost, online, self-paced Pre-Apprenticeship that is open to anyone. While you progress through a curated learning path on your own schedule, you plug into a vibrant peer community where daily discussion, code challenges, and project feedback keep you motivated and accountable. The Pre Apprenticeship on-ramp is entirely separate from SkillBridge and provides the foundational skills needed to qualify for more advanced training.

Active-duty members who meet SkillBridge eligibility can apply for our SkillBridge program, tackling real world projects that mirror industry workflows. Graduates may then have the option to transition into our U.S. Department of Labor registered apprenticeship program, earning a salary, benefits, and nationally recognized credentials (including college credit) while continuing to master their craft. Whether you pursue AI Prompt Engineering, Technical Sales and Consulting, Cyber Security, Full-Stack Software Engineering, QA Automation, or ServiceNow Development, CCC delivers a proven earn-and-learn pathway.

Ready to turn your passion into a purpose-driven tech career? Join us and help build a future where opportunity is accessible to all.
